Mayor George Karos, Martinsburg City Council Members, City Manager Mark Baldwin, and citizens of the City of Martinsburg,

On behalf of the men and women of the Martinsburg Police Department, I am honored to present the Martinsburg Police Department Annual Report for 2017.

During the course of the past year, our Department has continued moving forward—building partnerships that are making Martinsburg safer, improving the quality of life in our City’s neighborhoods, building trust, enhancing the image of our Department, and creating an organizational culture and expectation of excellence. MPD leads the way in performance, innovation, and results.

The efforts and teamwork of the entire MPD Team—supervisors, patrol officers, detectives, special units, dispatchers, and support staff—in partnership with the community, made a significant and positive difference in 2017: For the second year in a row, reported burglaries and robberies decreased, following last year’s dramatic reductions. MPD utilized our City’s innovative “Drug House Ordinance” to shut down 19 drug houses last year, helping clean up entire blocks. “Operation Spring Cleaning” continued to identify and arrest drug dealers for felony criminal offenses. MPD Detectives led the way in solving numerous major crimes. Police partnership with local schools and the Boys & Girls Club was expanded and MPD’s revamped Canine Unit dramatically increased drug enforcement activity and positive engagement with more than 1,000 school students.

Looking at proactive engagement and positive community interactions in 2017, MPD raised our game to a new level. Patrol officers engaged in more than 2,000 hours of foot and bicycle patrol, engaging with residents and preventing crime. An emphasis on quality of life issues throughout our neighborhoods remained a priority with increased enforcement action to reduce drug activity, prostitution, and drinking alcohol in public. Our patrol officers more than doubled our number of traffic stops in 2017, not only resulting in increased drug enforcement, but also in traffic safety. For the second straight year, the number of traffic crashes declined. Due in large part to last year’s extraordinary increase in proactive police work, “calls-for-service” increased by more than 8,000 in 2017. MPD’s Dispatchers did an outstanding job in responding to the workload.

MPD is also being recognized on the national level for our leadership role in The Martinsburg Initiative (TMI), the ground-breaking program we have put forth as a national model for opioid prevention. The TMI police/school/community partnership has been expanded citywide to Martinsburg’s eight elementary and intermediate schools.

Finally, 2017 marked the final development and approval of Martinsburg’s beautiful new Police and Municipal Court Building. The state-of-the-art structure will serve the needs of our Department and community for many decades to come. I wish to express the appreciation and gratitude of the Martinsburg Police Department to Mayor George Karos, all City Council Members, and City Manager Mark Baldwin for their vision, leadership, and support.

It is with great pride that I present the Martinsburg Police Department Annual Report for 2017.

Respectfully,

Chief of Police

Patrol

The Patrol Unit is the backbone of the Martinsburg Police Department. Patrol is responsible for the majority of MPD activity and initiatives. Tasked with responding to calls for service, investigating criminal incidents, reporting vehicle collisions, and providing police presence throughout the city, patrol officers are the department members who the city’s residents and visitors are most likely to come in contact with on any given day. There are currently 35 officers assigned to the patrol unit.

In 2017, MPD’s Patrol Unit increased efforts to maintain a more visible, proactive presence in several targeted areas throughout the city. Two areas that saw significant increases in foot patrol were our downtown district and all City parks. These foot patrols allowed officers to locate individuals engaging in crimes of public disorder who had learned how to avoid locations that could be observed from a patrol car. The increased police presence also served to combat perceptions that the downtown area was not safe. Increased foot patrols were also used on South Kentucky Avenue, Faulkner Avenue, and Winchester Avenue to address disorder and public perceptions of danger.
The Martinsburg Police Department Bicycle Patrol Unit was revamped in 2016 with new members, cutting-edge training, and updated uniforms. Lieutenant Scott Funkhouser was named as Bicycle Patrol Unit Commander in 2016, and Corporal Stephen Strickler serves as the International Police Mountain Bike Association (IPMBA) certified instructor for the unit.

The Bicycle Patrol Unit is designed to provide a proactive, mission-oriented police presence where an officer in a squad car cannot achieve maximum effectiveness. The unit again proved to be a valuable asset to the City of Martinsburg in 2017 by providing a specialized police presence in targeted enforcement areas, public housing complexes, and during special events such as the Fourth of July and the annual Apple Harvest Parade.

MPD’s Bicycle Patrol Unit has experienced great community support, including the donation of four new mountain bikes from the Argos Cement Company in 2017. The bicycles are 21 speed Cannondale “Enforcement 29” models equipped with disc brakes and valued at approximately $5,000.

Argos Cement Plant Manager Heinz Knopfel presents a generous donation to the Bicycle Patrol Unit.
School Resource Officer
Patrolman Shane Everhart is the Martinsburg Police Department’s School Resource Officer at Martinsburg High School. Patrolman Everhart is stationed within the high school full-time while school is in session to provide safety and protection for students and staff, enforce applicable laws regarding juveniles and schools, and also to provide a positive role-model for students of the Berkeley County School System. Officer Everhart conducts positive interactions with dozens of MHS students every day.

Berkeley County Schools Superintendent Manny Arvon praised Officer Everhart’s outstanding work in saving the life of a Martinsburg High School student last December, for which he was recognized by the Berkeley County Board of Education, honored by a City of Martinsburg Resolution of Accomplishment, and presented with MPD’s Lifesaving Award.

“I’ve had the privilege to know Shane as a student at South Middle School during my time as Principal. I’ve watched him grow from that student, who was a good student (and a little mischievous), into what I consider to be an outstanding police officer, father, husband, and colleague. Shane is respected not only by our teachers and staff, but also by our students who he protects. His actions on December 13th saved the life of one of those students. We are blessed to have Officer Shane Everhart.”

-Superintendent Manny Arvon
Detective Unit
The Martinsburg Police Department’s Detective Unit consists of Captain Kevin Miller, Detective Sergeant Adam Albaugh, Detective Corporal Jared Luciano and Detective Jonathan Smith. MPD’s detectives respond on call to major crime scenes, conduct investigations subsequent to major incidents, and also conduct proactive enforcement operations to gather information about and bring charges against individuals involved in criminal activity within the City of Martinsburg.

In 2017, MPD detectives conducted investigations into reports of serious crimes such as homicide, sexual offenses, crimes against children, burglary, robbery, and weapons-involved crime. The MPD Detective Unit conducted more than 100 controlled drug buys and 14 prostitution stings. MPD Detectives also investigated 327 cases. Each member of the unit was honored for continued drug investigations as well as the solving of two homicides. The Martinsburg Police Department also has two officers assigned to the Eastern Panhandle Drug and Violent Crime Task Force. This group of federal, state, and local law enforcement officers seeks out drug traffickers and violent criminals and has the ability to disrupt multi-state criminal operations.

Special Response Team
The Martinsburg Police Department Special Response Team (SRT), is a group of specially trained officers who respond to high-risk situations that include barricaded episodes, hostage incidents, and initiating the service of high-risk warrants. Prepared to resolve extremely dangerous encounters in the safest manner possible, the SRT responds to situations that demand more than normal training and equipment.

The SRT was deployed 10 times in 2017, two of those times being barricaded persons calls. Team officers also conducted in-house training six times in 2017, and members attended additional outside training on two separate occasions.

The team also expanded their operational and safety capabilities with new ballistic vests and shields, communications equipment, uniforms, and helmets that were provided to MPD through a $45,000 grant from the Department of Homeland Security.

Canine Unit
MPD’s Canine Unit is an important resource in implementing our Department’s community policing strategies. The unit is directed to accomplish an essential but challenging task—to effectively focus on aggressive, proactive, and effective drug enforcement activity and support while also engaging positively with schools, youth, and community residents. The Canine Unit is supervised by Lieutenant Scott Doyle.

Patrolman Ryan Fritz was selected as MPD’s new canine handler in February, 2017 and a new police canine, a one-year-old German Shepherd, was purchased with money from the Department’s drug seizure fund. Before the new partners began their six-week training program at Shallow Creek Kennels in Pennsylvania, the students at Winchester Avenue and Burke Street Elementary Schools voted to name MPD’s new canine member “Titan.”

Officer Fritz and Titan completed their training in early August, returned to Martinsburg, and hit the ground running. Ryan and Titan quickly established a level of Canine Unit excellence, conducting outstanding drug enforcement activity and visiting numerous local schools where they positively engaged with more than 1,000 students. In recognition for their exemplary accomplishments, Patrolman Ryan Fritz and Titan were honored as MPD “Officers of the Month” in October.

Tragically, in mid-December, Titan fell ill and was diagnosed with a rare form of Leukemia. The condition was terminal and Titan was in severe pain. In consultation with expert veterinary staff, the decision was made to euthanize Titan to end his suffering. Titan’s passing was mourned by his partner and handler, patrolman Ryan Fritz; the Martinsburg Police Department; school students; and our entire community. Mayor George Karos issued an official “Resolution of Recognition” for Titan’s accomplishments at the City Council Meeting in January, 2018.

The Martinsburg Police Department will continue to be a canine department. Shallow Creek Kennels is supplying us with a new police canine and all required training at no cost to the City. Patrolman Fritz and Lieutenant Doyle recently travelled to Shallow Creek and selected a new canine. We anticipate that Officer Fritz and his new canine partner will be on the streets on Martinsburg by the end of March.

Downtown
Anyone who has spent time in Downtown Martinsburg has likely seen or met Patrolman First Class Bill Parks, the Martinsburg Police Department’s designated Downtown Officer. As a 14-year veteran of the police department, Officer Parks has become a staple of the Martinsburg community through his vigilant patrol of the downtown area, his daily visits to our city’s schools, and his work to make Martinsburg a better, safer place through both education and enforcement activities.

Randy Lewis, Executive Director of Main Street Martinsburg, recognized the outstanding police work and community engagement Officer Parks accomplished in 2017 and the continued improvement he sees in Martinsburg’s downtown. “Patrolman Bill Parks is a real asset to our downtown district. He’s professional, dedicated, has a positive attitude and makes it his job to interact with people and solve problems. Business and property owners, downtown visitors, and residents know Bill Parks and can always count on him to help,” Lewis stated. The downtown business leader observed that, “MPD’s community policing is keeping downtown safe. I’ve seen many different officers patrolling the area on foot and bikes. Being able to always see the police out here and at our events makes people feel comfortable and secure.”

In 2017, MPD’s Downtown Officer conducted approximately 470 school checks, 155 bank checks, and 228 security checks at the Caperton Train Station. Officer Parks also conducted daily foot and bicycle patrols of the downtown area and public library. As part of our department’s community policing strategy, Parks participated in 19 safety and career presentations at local schools, gave 4 tours of the Martinsburg Police Station, and provided approximately 6 escorts to elementary school students walking to various locations in Downtown Martinsburg. During 2017, Officer Parks was personally responsible for 114 criminal charges in successfully achieving his downtown public safety mission.
Support Staff
The Martinsburg Police Department’s support staff members include Police Secretary Debbie Welch and Systems Operator Lisa Farmer.

Debbie Welch handles the police department’s logistics and supports department members by ensuring that all necessary equipment is acquired and in stock as needed. She plays an important role in assisting the Chief and command staff. Debbie also corresponds with vendors and members of the public to ensure department operations run smoothly.

Lisa Farmer manages all of the police department’s records and reports. She plays a critical role in ensuring that all necessary information is available when it is needed for investigations and court hearings. Lisa also keeps the department in compliance with crime information reporting requirements set by federal and state agencies.

Dispatch
MPD’s dispatchers function as the central hub between all officers on the road and command staff at the Martinsburg Police Department. Our dispatchers are usually the first point of contact when citizens make a call for service and then help to ensure the safety of our officers in the field and the integrity of information gathered during investigations. MPD’s seven full-time dispatchers were responsible for making initial records of all 34,562 calls for service that were received in 2017, as well as providing officers with critical information related to their investigations of these calls such as DMV and criminal records.

MPD’s Chief Dispatcher Steve Rockwell leads the department’s team of dispatchers which includes Linda Lyons, Morgan Frick, Misty Hughes, Nicki Schoonover-Martin, Carrie Cutshall, and Robin Hammond-Thomas. Steve also ensures compliance with training and record keeping standards set by outside agencies. In 2017, the Martinsburg Police Department will continue the process of equipping our dispatch team with the necessary tools to streamline their work load. This will allow our dispatchers to spend less time entering data and monitoring radio traffic so they can focus on providing officers with critical safety information in the quickest, most efficient way possible.
2017 HIGHLIGHTS

Drug House Ordinance
Martinsburg’s innovative Drug House Ordinance has proved to be an extremely powerful tool that is improving the quality of life in our community. By the end of 2017 MPD had utilized the ordinance to shut down 19 drug houses, not only stopping drug sales from those locations but also cleaning up crime and disorder on each of those 19 blocks. Relationships with landlords have improved too. Most property owners have worked cooperatively with the police and municipal court to quickly bring their properties and tenants into compliance with the Drug House Ordinance.

Serious illegal drug activity was occurring at these locations, causing many other neighborhood problems. The shutting down of these 19 drug houses resulted in: 30 Arrests; 5 Guns Recovered; and Illegal Drug Recoveries of 280 grams of Heroin, 165 grams of Crack Cocaine, and 51 grams of Powder Cocaine. The Estimated Street Value of these illegal drugs totaled $80,000. In addition, officers seized $11,173 in Suspected Drug Money.

Teamwork between MPD officers and our partners of the Eastern Panhandle Drug and Violent Crime Task Force have done an outstanding job coordinating proactive drug-selling investigations resulting in enforcement actions needed to invoke the ordinance. This teamwork included nine search warrants, five conducted by MPD and four conducted by the Eastern Panhandle Drug and Violent Crime Task Force, and six undercover investigations through MPD’s Operation Spring Cleaning.

The Drug House Ordinance works—shutting down drug houses and keeping them shut down. A review of calls-for-service in 2017 shows that after invoking the Drug House Ordinance at each of these locations, there have been no calls or complaints of drug selling at any one of them after the ordinance was utilized.

Under provisions of the Martinsburg Drug House Ordinance, property owners are subject to fines if they fail to take appropriate action to abate the problem within 30 days of notification and take steps to prevent the problem from recurring in the future. The ordinance applies to owners of both rental and owner-occupied property. Huntington, Parkersburg, and Clarksburg, West Virginia have enacted similar drug house ordinances based on Martinsburg’s to help fight the heroin problem.

The Martinsburg Initiative
The Martinsburg Initiative (TMI), the innovative partnership that has developed a model solution to the national problem of opioid addiction and abuse, took a giant step forward in 2017, with the awarding of a $135,000 twelve-month federal grant to the Berkeley County Schools to administer the program.

The ground-breaking program, spearheaded by the Martinsburg Police Department, Berkeley County Schools, Shepherd University, and the Washington/Baltimore High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area (HIDTA) Program—continues to surge forward. “Heroin prevention is absolutely critical to the long-term solution to the opioid epidemic, but to be effective and it has to start with children and families,” announced Martinsburg Police Chief Maury Richards. The MPD Chief says that, “TMI is using the special connection between police, schools, and families to build relationships that will prevent drug abuse and addiction. It’s never been done anywhere before, but we’ve started it here. The Martinsburg Initiative will become a prevention model for our entire country.”

The Martinsburg Initiative applies the pioneering science of Dr. Vincent Felitti’s Kaiser Permanente Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACE) Study through a neighborhood, school-based, and community policing strategy that begins with the family. TMI will continue to expand community resources and link law enforcement, schools, communities, and families in a dynamic partnership that assesses participants' ACE scores, links them to necessary resources and supports, and connects participating students with positive adult mentors.

The Berkeley County Schools is administering the TMI grant under the leadership of School Superintendent Manny Arvon. “The Martinsburg Initiative has provided the partnerships to assist in stopping the next generation of opioid users,” Superintendent Arvon stated. “Through education and professional assistance to families we will bring hope, stability and success for our most prized possession, our students, Arvon added.

Importantly, the grant now supports a full-time Project Director. Berkeley County Schools Social Worker, Tiffany Hendershot, has been selected to perform this vital function. During the past year, Ms. Hendershot has successfully directed TMI pilot programs at Winchester Avenue and Burke Street Elementary schools. TMI will now be expanded to include all Elementary and Intermediate schools within the City of Martinsburg.

Shepherd University will be crucial to TMI’s continued success, conducting an on-going study to assess results, contributing volunteer interns to help run the program, and providing mentors for youth. “This is the right time and the right place to make a difference that will benefit our state, implementing this innovative model, said Shepherd President Dr. Mary Hendrix. “Shepherd University is proud to partner with The Martinsburg Initiative,” Hendrix added.

The Office of National Drug Control Policy’s High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area (HIDTA) Program addresses drug-related issues by supporting and collaborating with law enforcement, treatment, and prevention partners. Last August, Tom Carr, Executive Director of Washington/Baltimore HIDTA since 1994, joined The Martinsburg Initiative’s Executive Board. Carr announced at the time that, “the Washington/Baltimore HIDTA has joined forces with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to bring additional resources to Berkeley County.” Commenting on the awarding of TMI’s funding grant, Director Carr stated, “The Martinsburg Initiative is a drug and crime prevention partnership that holds great promise. TMI is founded upon evidence-based research that clearly demonstrates how adverse childhood experiences (ACEs) significantly impact the future of our children.”

Operation Spring Cleaning Phases IV & V and Task Force Drug Roundup

The Martinsburg Police Department has continued to turn up the heat on drug dealers operating within our city. In 2017 MPD successfully conducted Phases IV and V of “Operation Spring Cleaning.” Originally launched in May of 2016, “Spring Cleaning” is MPD’s ongoing enforcement initiative aggressively and effectively targeting all drug dealers in Martinsburg. In May, 13 heroin dealers were arrested during Phase IV operations and Phase V continued in October when 10 more drug dealers were locked up. During the two roundups, MPD was assisted by the United States Marshal Service, the Eastern Panhandle Drug and Violent Crime Task Force, the West Virginia State Police, and the Berkeley Since its launch in 2016, Operation Spring Cleaning has totaled 75 felony arrests for illegal drug distribution.

MPD Detective Sergeant Adam Albaugh has led and coordinated the last two operations with MPD detective and patrol units. “We did a lot of hard work taking drug dealers off the streets in 2017 and that work has resulted in very solid cases, states Sergeant Albaugh. “I want to recognize Captain Kevin Miller, Sergeant Justin Darby, Detective Corporal Jared Luciano, Detective Derek English, Patrolman Ryan Fritz, and Patrolman Joel Larson for their great work, and also the many community residents who stepped forward to help,” Albaugh added.

Deputy Chief George Swartwood commended the outstanding police work, “We care about Martinsburg. This is our town and these are our kids. We have a really simple message to dope dealers, ‘Sell drugs in our town, and we’ll put you in jail.”

Body Worn Cameras
MPD launched our new Body Worn Camera (BWC) program last February. Now in addition to an officer’s existing in-car camera system, all interactions with the public during official law enforcement activities will be recorded via a Taser Axon Body 2 video camera that is worn on the front of each officer’s uniform. With video buffering capabilities, a recording will be captured beginning 30 seconds prior to the officer activating the camera and will continue until the interaction is complete and the officer then stops the recording. Officers are also authorized to use discretion in deciding to not record interactions that involve sensitive locations or information.

The body-worn cameras now being utilized by Martinsburg’s police officers feature high-definition video and audio recordings with a 142-degree horizontal field of view. The technology is designed to capture, as accurately as possible, what the officer was actually able to see and hear in any given situation. The Martinsburg Police Department is confident that this cutting-edge technology will aid officers in gathering evidence, help to strengthen public trust in law enforcement, resolve allegations of misconduct by officers, and improve officer training and evaluation.

The City of Martinsburg’s body cameras were acquired with funding approved by the Martinsburg City Council and supplemental grant funds from the United States Department of Justice. At the new program’s rollout, Chief Maury Richards spoke of the significant effort that has gone into launching MPD’s body-worn camera program, stating: “This project has been several years in the making and would not have been possible without the hard work and foresight of our former chief, Captain Kevin Miller, and now Lieutenant Scott Doyle who is leading the program. No technology is perfect, but studies have shown that the use of body-worn cameras has a positive impact on the behavior of both police and the public, while also reducing use of force incidents.” Lieutenant Doyle also played the leading role in developing the Department’s BWC policy which has been described by Chief Richards to be “on the cutting-edge of law enforcement policy.”

Deputy Chief Swartwood also praised the support that the department has received in launching the program. “We’re thankful to our city council and leadership for supporting us in making our body-worn camera program a reality, and we’re confident that this will provide a significant boost to our efforts in building strong police-community partnerships through communication, participation, and transparency,” Swartwood said.

Continued Burglary and Robbery Reductions
For the second consecutive year, reported burglaries and robberies have decreased in Martinsburg.
Last year Burglaries decreased 19% and robberies decreased 9% compared to 2016. These continued reductions are significant, coming after last year’s dramatic decreases. In 2016 reported burglaries were reduced by 32% and robberies were down 45% compared to the year 2015.

Crime reduction is the result of multiple factors including: quality arrests and successful prosecutions of serial offenders, proactive patrol, and trust and communication between police and residents. In 2017, MPD more than doubled our number of traffic stops to 9,975, engaged in 2,000 hours of foot and bike patrol, increased drug enforcement, and more than doubled prostitution arrests.

New Look Police Cruisers
In September, the Martinsburg Police Department rolled out new vehicles with a clean look. The four new 2016 Ford Explorers that were added to the MPD fleet featured fresh and innovative Department decals and markings that immediately captured people’s attention. The sharp, clean, and dynamic new design was created by MPD Patrolman Sam McGovern and the honor to take the first vehicle on the road was awarded to Patrolman Craig Richmond, one of MPD’s two 2016 Officers of the Year.

Patrolmen Richmond and McGovern are both proud and humble of their accomplishments and quick to share the credit. Officer McGovern, who has previously utilized his talents in creating the new websites for both the Police Department and the City, said “The new logo design was a team effort from start to finish. Chief Richards asked me if I could come with a new look and we really went to work on it. Lieutenant Scott Doyle and Corporal Jared Luciano were instrumental with the project.
They were great and had some very creative ideas. It wasn’t easy, but I’m really happy with the finished product,” McGovern noted.

Officer Richmond’s new vehicle also has the distinction of being equipped with a state-of-the-art emergency lighting system. The special lights are courtesy of a winning $10 raffle ticket purchased by Chief Richards at the West Virginia Chiefs of Police Conference. The custom lighting package was supplied and installed by West Virginia Signal & Light out of Kenna, West Virginia and is valued at approximately $8,000. MPD was able to partner with Panhandle Printing and Design, a local Martinsburg business, for the production and professional installation of the new and distinctive decals.

Officer Richmond has wasted no time putting his new vehicle to good use. “If you really want to make a difference out there as a policeman, you have to be a team member,” stated Patrolman Craig Richmond. “I’m super-motivated as an individual, but sharing information, working together with my fellow officers, and earning the trust of people in the community are the keys to doing this job well,” according to Richmond. “It’s an honor to be given the opportunity to have a new cruiser like this. I’m a car guy and this vehicle is unbelievable.”

MPD’s sharp new vehicle logos are being installed on all new cruisers and over time will replace the old logo on the rest of the fleet.

Chief Richards Presents Opioid Prevention Model at National Conference

As part of the law enforcement response to the opioid epidemic, the Police Executive Research Forum (PERF) convened a high-level national strategy and information sharing meeting in New York City at New York Police Department Headquarters. Last April’s “Responding to the Opioid Epidemic” conference was attended by several hundred police chiefs, other law and drug enforcement leaders, and public health experts from across North America. Martinsburg Police Department Chief Maury Richards, a PERF member, was among 130 police chiefs in attendance and actively participated in the important meeting and introduced the creation of The Martinsburg Initiative on the national stage.

The PERF conference came at a critical time for our country. The 64,000 drug overdose deaths in 2016 were a record high. Of these, opioids killed 42,000, more than any year in history.

The Surgeon General reports that the total annual cost to our society from illicit drug use in health care, loss of labor productivity, and criminal justice now approaches $200 billion.

Chief Richards emphasized that a successful war against illegal drugs must be simultaneously fought on three fronts—enforcement, treatment, and prevention. While each component of this multi-level strategy is essential, only effective prevention provides a long-term solution to drug supply, addiction, and abuse. “The simple fact is this,” stated Richards, “we will never reduce the supply of drugs unless we reduce the demand for drugs. The only long-term cure for the opioid epidemic is to stop people from starting drug use in the first place, and that requires a prevention strategy that works. The Martinsburg Initiative is a model solution to a national problem.”

New Patrol Officers & Special Unit Personnel Changes

The Martinsburg Police Department continues to move forward, attracting top quality applicants, and filling our Department’s ranks with excellent new officers. In 2017 five new members joined the MPD family. Patrolman Roderick Holloway and Patrolman Rodney Crawford completed their training and are doing an outstanding job in their new patrol duties. Our three newest MPD recruits, Britney Connor, Nashon Cook, and Aaron Miller recently started their training at the West Virginia State Police Training Academy and are scheduled to graduate in April, 2018.

During 2017, our Department’s Special Units also saw changes with MPD’s new Canine Handler, Patrolman Ryan Fritz and a new Detective, Patrolman Jon Smith. MPD’s Special Response Team changes and new additions included: SRT Commander, Sergeant Frank Polinik; Team Leader Patrolman Shane Everhart; and Team Members Patrolman Joel Larson, Patrolman Paul Lehman, and Patrolman Danny North.

Policies and Training

The Martinsburg Police Department is continuing to build a culture and expectation of excellence. In 2017, we took significant steps in improving professionalism, knowledge, and skills through state-of-the-art technology, training, and policies.
Last year, through our new partnership with Blue Ridge Community and Technical College, MPD was to able take our quality of training to a new level. Thanks to the cooperation and support of Pat Hubbard, Blue Ridge CTC’s Director of Customized Training and Workforce Development, and Dr. Peter Chekovich, Blue Ridge College President, MPD was awarded a $19,000 West Virginia Workforce Development Grant. These funds enabled us to provide four top level training programs to both MPD personnel and other law enforcement agencies. The classes were taught by expert instructors with world-class resumes. These classes were: Introduction to Death Investigations—Instructor, Kelly Ayers; Seminar for Police Supervisors—Instructor, Dan McDevitt; Growing Public Integrity & Ethical Decision-Making—Instructor, Dan McDevitt, and Police/Media Relations—Instructor, Rick Rosenthal.

Also in 2017, before MPD’s introduction of Body Worn Cameras (BWC) to our Department and community, came the development of proper Department policy. Lieutenant Scott Doyle played the lead role in researching and creating our BWC policy. MPD’s Body Worn Camera policy is on the cutting-edge of policing best-practices.

Community Engagement

Positive engagement between the police and Martinsburg residents is essential to the community policing mission of the Martinsburg Police Department. In 2017, MPD expanded our community partnerships with neighborhoods, schools, and businesses. We increased school visits by uniformed officers through our “Adopt a Classroom” program and maintained daily visits and our bi-annual basketball games with the Boys & Girls Club. In August, at War Memorial Park, Martinsburg’s second annual National Night Out Against Crime attracted almost 500 adults and children. MPD officers dedicated 2,000 hours of foot and bike patrol throughout all areas of the city, getting out of our cruisers and engaging hundreds of neighborhood residents. Our Police & Fire Youth Explorer Post continues to grow and MPD’s Canine Unit conducted eight school canine demonstrations, positively interacting with more than 1,000 students.
New Police and Court Building

In 2017, final City Council approval was given for construction of the new Martinsburg Police Department and Municipal Court Building. The beautiful three story, 33,000 square foot building will be built on the site of the vacant American Legion Post building at 125 W. Race Street. The project was designed by the award-winning firm, Silling Architects, and will be a state-of-the-art police, court, and community facility. MPD staff and personnel, City Manager Mark Baldwin, Council Members, and many City Department heads have been directly involved in the project’s development and design options. On February 20, 2018 City Council awarded the construction contract to W. Harley Miller Contractors, a Martinsburg-based company. Projected completion is set for July, 2019.
